Brian Silverstein, M.D.

Chief Population Health Officer, Innovaccer

Dr. Brian Silverstein is Chief Population Health Officer of Innovaccer Inc., and a national healthcare thought leader with extensive operational and consulting expertise. He has worked with numerous health system executive teams to drive transformational initiatives in areas such as value-based delivery, patient access, governance, ACO strategy, clinically integrated network design, and population health management.

Before joining Innovaccer, Dr. Silverstein served as Senior Vice President at CareFirst BlueCross Blue Shield where he implemented one of the early value care delivery programs. His consulting engagements include leadership roles with The Chartis Group, Geisinger Consulting Group, The Camden Group, and Sg2 Health Care Intelligence.

Dr. Silverstein is a faculty member and advisor for The Governance Institute, and he holds appointments as a faculty member for The American College of Healthcare Executives and the Thomas Jefferson School of Public Health QSLs. He serves on the editorial board for Population Health Management and is a system and ACO board member for OSF Healthcare.

Dr. Silverstein was named one of the “10 People to Know in the World of ACOs” by Becker’s Hospital Review. He received his M.D. from the University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine. He completed his internship in internal medicine with McGaw Medical Center of Northwestern University.
