ASSUMPTIONS

- Paid based on quality, cost patient experience and outcomes
- Hospital stays will be commoditized
- Our doctors and nurses will coexist (cooperate) with deep learning.
- Given the above, we will need to select and educate humans to be better humans than the robots, e.g. foster creativity
- Population health, predictive analytics, and social determinants need to move to the mainstream of clinical care, payment models and medical education

THE DAWN OF DIGITAL MEDICINE

The pandemic is ushering in the next trillion-dollar industry

Last January Stephen Klasko, chief executive of Jefferson Health, which runs hospitals in Philadelphia, chatted to a bank boss. The financier told him that 20 years ago health care and banking were the only industries yet to embrace the consumer and digital revolutions.

"Now", Mr Klasko recalls him adding,
"you are alone."

The Turnover Tsunami | Trends Impacting the Healthcare Workforce

- Changing Payment Models and Value Based Care – will require redesigning care delivery models, reconfiguring workflows, hiring new types of providers, redesigning roles, and upskilling existing staff,
- Care and Workforce is shifting from acute to ambulatory and community settings

Increased Focus on Health Equity

Will Require a Workforce for Health

- Patient navigators
- Community health workers
- Home health workers
- Integrated behavioral health
- Handyman or woman!

Increased Competition from Corporate Players Especially in Primary Care

- Health systems facing increased competition from corporate players who are redesigning workforce, using technology and making house calls to meet patient needs (they get it...it's about the patient!)
- Instead of retrofitting care delivery models and existing workforce, they are asking:
  - What are where are patients' unmet needs for services?
  - How can health workforce be better deployed as a team to meet those needs?

CVS Health launches first nationwide virtual primary care solution

Growing Unmet Demand for Behavioral Health

- 4x increase in adults reporting symptoms of depression or anxiety since the pandemic
- ED visits for overdoses and suicide attempts are up 36% and 26%
- Its not only patients who are struggling!
Provider burnout is rampant

The Great Resignation | Burnout and Shift to Employee-Drive Market

- 18% of healthcare workers in the US have quit their job since the beginning of the pandemic
- 33% of physicians, nurses and APPs intend to reduce their hours
- Workforce shortages are going to get worse
- Growth in temporary staffing are here to stay

The Human Capital System

Structure | WFH and Flexibility

Remote / Flex / Hybrid

- Employers expect 2 of every 5 workers may work remote
- 16% of employers hiring only remote workers
- 51% of all knowledge workers will be hybrid (up from 27%)
- 59% of employees are expecting more flexible hours/WFH options

Culture | Disruption of Social Cohesion

Covid-19 Impact: Rising Concern for Employee Well-Being

- Loss of casual social interactions
- Increased isolation
- Lack of connection with colleagues
- Additional work effort
- Sense of “Burnout”

Leadership | Need for Inclusive Approach

Humanitarian Leaders

- 60% of Employers make behavioral health a priority
- Create flexibility in roles and responsibilities
- Recognize personal lives of employees
- Provide more learning and development opportunities

Image: Catalyst

Talent | New Value Proposition?

What Employees are Seeking:

- Flexible Work Arrangements
— where, when, what, how
- Develop New Digital Skills
— hot tech and future skills
- A Shared Sense of Purpose
— societal issues and impact
- Meaningful Contributions
— company and community
- Personal Growth
— custom development and coaching

Priorities for Employers

Top Priorities to Prepare for the Future of Work:

1. Address Employee Well-Being
  - take holistic approach
2. Develop Flex/Hybrid Models
  - design with function and equity
3. Foster Inclusive Leadership
  - develop manager capabilities
4. Rethink Employee Value Proposition
  - customize experiences

What are People saying? HARRIS POLL

- 81 percent of the respondents said shopping for healthcare services should be as easy as shopping for other types of services.
- 67 percent of the respondents said it feels like every step of the healthcare process is a chore.
- 62 percent of the respondents said the healthcare experience feels like it's intentionally set up to be confusing.
- 56 percent of the respondents said they know people who will do anything to avoid seeking care because the healthcare experience is so poor.

CONSUMER SEGMENTATION

1. Nobody knows what it costs to acquire a patient.
2. Nobody knows what it costs to retain a patient.
3. Nobody knows what it costs to prevent leakage
4. Patients and members, both new and existing, will tell you that healthcare marketing has zero impact on who they choose as their provider and payer.
5. Providers and payers will continue to spend money on marketing campaigns that do not resonate with anyone outside of marketing.

Guide consumers by giving them the information they need to make good decisions about their health

- ▶ Consumers who are disengaged in managing their own healthcare are often unsatisfied and drive up costs

Find convenient ways for consumers to connect with the healthcare community

- ▶ Be Amazon, Target, Walmart
- ▶ Don't Be Macys, Sears, Penney's

Inspire loyalty

- ▶ Learn from success of other industries
- ▶ Demonstrate value for money
- ▶ Give consumers a single point of contact
- ▶ Create a seamless experience across the continuum

DR. ROWAN MOLNAR
“Technology will replace 80% of what doctors do.”

VINOD KHOSLA
“Any doctor that can be replaced by a computer should be.”

FOUR QUESTIONS WE ASKED OUR ACADEMIC LEADERSHIP

If technology and AI will replace 80% of what doctors do, how do we select and educate the doctors of the future?

If population health and patient experience will be (like everything else) digital, what partnerships do we need to educate our students and residents in this new world of data and AI?

If the skill sets related to population health are fundamentally different, how do we train the current faculty to be leaders in a culture they are not familiar with?

What vertical integrations might we see between AMCS and other entities that will potentiate this transformation that may not have been envisioned even a few years ago?

CENTER FOR RESPONSIBLE INNOVATION

- We need large scale transformations in healthcare to both survive as a business and to have a positive societal outcome
- Healthcare and academic success will require disruption in our way of thinking, creative partnerships to create new ecosystems
- There is no such thing as non-disruptive disruption
  - It will be painful for those who don't want to think differently as new ecosystems are built
  - The fourth industrial revolution will give us the tools and data to do this but we need to proactively address the human and ethical consequences
  - Social determinants and health inequities need to move from academic ponderings to the mainstream of clinical care and health policy
